

ROCK ON: The Miami Music Festival is to make a comeback Nov. 12-14 after its inaugural run in December. Growing from last year's 270 acts, the 2010 festival is to feature 500 performances by new-and-developing artists at venues like the Adrienne Arsht Center for the Performing Arts and five stages at Bayfront Park. Details: www.miamimusicfestival.org

GUYS' GETAWAY: A crew from Spike TV, which caters to a young-male demographic, was in town May 13-16 shooting "The Playbook" program's summer kickoff episode, according to the Greater Miami Convention & Visitors Bureau. The episode is to be themed "Miami Guys Weekend Get-a-Way." "The Playbook" airs Thursdays at 7 p.m.

MIAMI IN FRENCH: French television channel TF1 was to be in Miami shooting a 12-minute feature on the city as a favorite vacation destination for celebrities on its "50 mn inside" program. The program is similar to a French version of celebrity-news show "Entertainment Tonight."
